

The Camp Rehoboth Program and STD/HIV Prevention Training Center at Johns Hopkins are teaming up to bring you a free training designed to increase your knowledge regarding sexually transmitted infections!

STI UPDATE

Monday March 14, 2022

From 8am-4:30pm

Location: 37 Baltimore Avenue, Rehoboth Beach, DE 19971

This will be held in person- masks indoors required for all participants

Please Pre-Register Please create an account on the nation Network of STD Clinical Prevention Training Centers (NNPTC) website: STI Update registration link - https://courses.nnptc.org/class_information.html?id=3168

Objectives for STD Update

1. Discuss the epidemiology of STIs
2. Discuss the identification of STIs
3. Discuss the testing methods STIs
4. Describe the treatment of STIs
5. Explain how to monitor the patient and adjust care plan as needed.
6. Describe the importance of interprofessional collaboration in managing and treating STIs.

Target Audience

Physicians, nurse practitioners, nurse midwives, nurse clinicians, physician assistants, health educators, outreach workers, social workers, health administrators, and other clinical personnel.

Credit

- CME (Physicians), CNE (Nurses), CEU, CECH (Continuing Education Contact Hours for Certified Health Education Specialists), CPH (Certified Public Health), CPE (Pharmacists)

Questions?

Contact Jeanne Hoover at 410-206 1156 or email jhoover6@jhmi.edu or Amber Lee 302-227-5620 or email amber@camprehobeth.com